

New Yorkers For A Day

German Traders Are Flocking Back Into Orient to Get Old Trade.

By Roger Batchelder.

American business men are going to China and other parts of the Orient in increasing numbers, and are successfully competing with firms of other nations, according to F. T. Letchfield, chief engineer for an American trading firm in Tientsin, who is at the Pennsylvania to-day. He is interested in the purchase of street car and electric lighting equipment for the city of Harbin, Manchuria.

"Harbin is a city of 800,000 people," he said, "and it will be the first city between Vladivostok and Peking to have a street-car system."

"German traders are now beginning to come back to the Orient," Mr. Letchfield went on, "but successful competition with us and other nations depends entirely on internal conditions in Germany. Before the World War they did a tremendous business in China, particularly in the province of Shanghai."

Mr. Letchfield reported that Americans and British throughout the Orient regard the results of the Disarmament Conference with favor and satisfaction.

"The Japanese, however, seem to be bitterly disappointed. One can gain some idea of the popular Japanese sentiment from the fact that when Baron Kato returned to Yokohama, 3,000 government police were at the dock to prevent a hostile demonstration."

THE VISITING HOUSEWIFE'S COOK BOOK.

POTATO CROQUETTES, by Chef Otto Gensch of the Astor, is the forty-fourth of a series of favorite recipes, written especially for the scrap books of "New Yorkers for a Day or Two," by New York's famous chefs.

Feel very thin and cut into quarters about two pounds of mealy potatoes; boil them in salted water until tender, drain and mash them thoroughly in the steupan. Rub through a sieve and put them back into the steupan; stir in a little hot milk or cream, a small piece of butter, and a yolk of egg; season with salt, pepper and a very little grated nutmeg.

Set steupan over the fire for a few minutes, stir well, and spread the puree on a dish to cool. When cool enough, shape into corks or rounds, brush over each with beaten egg, and roll in bread crumbs. Fry to a light brown color in hot fat. Drain them on a cloth, dish up on a folded napkin, garnish with fried parsley and serve hot.

(Another excellent recipe in this column to-morrow.)

OUR FASHION DEPARTMENT.

Those who find the novelty of bobbed hair or any other coiffure of the time beginning to pall and are truly eager for something new should note this beauty hint from South Africa, brought here by A. A. Allison of the Standerton District, Transvaal, who is at the McAlpin.

Here's the way milady of a certain native tribe down there arranges her tresses for a ball or Sunday promenade:

Take about a pound of soft clay of your favorite color and work thoroughly into hair. Then mould the hair into a spiral or cone-shaped point. Sit around in the sun awhile, permitting the mould to harden. The longer one's hair, of course, the more striking will this headpiece be. But do not be discouraged because your hair may seem to be too short. Just add to the tip of the mould a fringe of lion's mane, thus compensating with charm and distinction what the coiffure may lack in height.

SOMETHING IS HERE ANYWAY.

If you don't believe that spring—or something else—is here, list to the report of our Penning Square fashion reporter. A charming young lady with bobbed hair tripped through the lobby of the Biltmore yesterday. The ensuing excitement was caused by the pair of khaki breeches which she wore.

A WHALE—AND OTHER THINGS.

"The most exciting feature of our three-weeks' ocean trip from San Francisco, via Panama, was a collision with a whale," related Miss Sue McDonald of San Francisco.

who is at the Astor with her parents, Col. and Mrs. John B. McDonald, en route for Europe. "We were two days out when this monster whale was sighted immediately in front of the ship. It looked as though it were sleeping, for it did not move, and the ship struck it. Everybody was excited when the whale began to struggle and flap around, and the Captain finally had to reverse the engines to free the boat of its new passenger."

Miss McDonald said that Ethelda Bleibrey, New York's champion swimmer, had created a most favorable impression in Panama City, and made herself very popular on the isthmus. It was reported, she said in conclusion, that the Panama tourist season had been the largest in history.

FARTHEST FROM HOME.

The "New Yorker for a Day or Two" who is farthest from home to-day is F. Lindsay Ryan, who is at the Pennsylvania. His home town, Sydney, Australia, is about 15,000 miles from Broadway.

WON'T KILL ANDERSON.

Sutherland Says He Never Meant Threat—Aberration, Says Court.

John L. Sutherland, thirty-two years old, a newspaper man of No. 427 West 44th Street, was held in $10,000 bail in the Tombs Court yesterday on a charge of sending a threatening letter to William H. Anderson, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. The arrest was on a warrant obtained by Mr. Anderson. Sutherland admitted writing the letter but said he never intended carrying out the threat to kill. The letter read in part:

"If your words and actions henceforth are not silent and if you do not take your place quietly in the great body of American citizenship we mean to kill you without the slightest compunction."

In fixing such high bail Magistrate Simpson told Sutherland he believed he had a temporary aberration and wished to protect him from doing violence to Mr. Anderson.

Four to One Odds Against You

The chances are four to one you will contract Pyorrhea after you pass the age of forty unless you take proper precautions.

Thousands younger also suffer from this unpleasant disorder of the mouth and gums.

Pyorrhea starts with tender, bleeding gums. That is the way Nature warns you of your danger. Heed that warning!

If you ignore it, you may pay the penalty by loss of your teeth and serious illness.

Pyorrhea works fast. It loosens the teeth in their sockets until they fall out or must be pulled. It forms pus pockets at the roots of the teeth and feeds disease germs into the system.

Don't trifle with Pyorrhea. At the first danger signal, see your dentist and start using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's, if used consistently and used in time, will prevent Pyorrhea or check its course.

It is the time-tested formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S.

Use Forhan's regularly as a dentifrice. It keeps the teeth and gums in a clean, healthy condition and wards off Pyorrhea.

Don't wait until tomorrow. Four out of five contract Pyorrhea because they wait too long. 35c and 60c tubes at your druggist's.
